Social Cohesion Hub

Social cohesion

is the foundation for every society but crises and polarization threaten it in many places nowadays. It is therefore ever more important to understand what social cohesion is and how it is strengthened.

#SoCoHub

The Hub relies on contributions by researchers, policy practitioners, state- and non-state organizations working on social cohesion. Check it out, contribute to the Hub and become part of our new community!

The Social Cohesion Hub

is a collaborative knowledge platform dedicated to understanding social cohesion and how it can be bolstered and preserved. The Social Cohesion Hub's goal is to gather knowledge on central questions on the topic of social cohesion:

- What do we mean precisely when talking about social cohesion?
- What instruments are used to foster it in projects around the world?
- How do we measure it?
- What drives social cohesion?
- What leverage does development cooperation have?
