

Envisioning New Partnerships For Africa's Future Making Global Governance Work in a Post-2015 World

Final report of the GG2022 Working Group on Global Development Governance

Presented by:

| CLARA BRANDI

| Researcher, German Development Institute / Deutsches Institut für Entwicklungspolitik (DIE) and GG2022 fellow

| KATRIN HAMM

| Associate Operations Officer, International Finance Corporation, World Bank Group and GG2022 fellow

| GINGER TURNER

| Senior Economist and Vice President, Swiss Re and GG2022 fellow

| JIAJUN XU

| PhD Candidate, University of Oxford and GG2022 fellow

Moderated by:

| Johannes Gabriel, Non-resident Fellow, Global Public Policy Institute and Founder, Institute for Applied Foresight Intelligence

Monday, 16 December 2013, 12:00 – 14:00

Location: German Development Institute (Deutsches Institut für Entwicklungspolitik)
Sitzungssaal, Tulpenfeld 6, 53113 Bonn

To RSVP, please send an email to Mengsu Chang (mchang@gppi.net) by 10 December 2013.

Lunch will be served at the event.

The GG2022 program (www.gg2022.net) is jointly conducted by the Global Public Policy Institute, Hertie School of Governance, Tsinghua University, Fudan University, Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University, and the Brookings Institution.

The program is generously supported by the Robert Bosch Stiftung and the Transatlantic Program of the German Government.