

15 Years Managing Global Governance Past, Present, and Future

Three-day Online Conference
23 -25 November 2022

Background

The Managing Global Governance (MGG) Programme, financed by the German Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ), turns 15 in 2022. In the three-day online conference “Celebrating 15 years of MGG” on 23 to 25 November, we will look back on past achievements, position ourselves in the multiple global challenges we are facing today, and envision the network and its impact in the future. On the first day of the conference, we will present and celebrate inspiring stories illustrating how the MGG programme and its vibrant network catalyse change in various fields of global governance and transnational cooperation. The second day focuses on the “here and now”. In numerous thematic sessions led by members of the MGG network, we will reflect upon current crisis and exchange upon the most burning issues in MGG partner countries as well as their global dimensions. On the third and last day, we will develop joint visions for the future of multilateralism and global partnerships – and how the MGG programme can contribute to that in the years to come.

In 2007, the MGG project started with the first course of the Managing Global Governance School. The vision was to establish fundamentally new forms of cooperation between very different countries from around the globe. Cooperation was envisioned as transnational as well as trans sectoral: Young leaders and change makers from academia, public service, civil society and the private sector, coming together to develop joint understandings of the world’s most pressing challenges – and pathways to address them based on the principles of fairness, equity and the vision of a global common good. In 2022, the need for transnational cooperation, for finding common ground and joint visions of a future that allows a good life for all within the limits of the earth system is even more important than it was back in 2007.
